Dear Mr Millet,

Re: Industrial Placement

I wish to apply for the role of Risk Analyst that was spoken about at Cardiff University and have attached my CV accordingly.

As a Maths student my degree has provided me with the perfect skills for this position. In particular, it involves a great deal of problem solving skills combined with understanding complex and technical topics. During a recent summer research placement I have shown that I am very self-motivated and able to communicate effectively when working as part of a team. The placement involved a large amount of programming and this is something I know I would have the chance to develop further with a placement at Lloyds.

I am a quick learner with keen interest in the financial sector and I would be very grateful for the opportunity to start my career with Lloyds. You have provided many rewarding placements to Cardiff students in the past and I know how valuable the experience they gained will be in the future.

Thank you for taking the time to look at my application, I look forward to hearing from you in the future.

Yours Faithfully,

James Campbell
